ABOUT US

Quick Dry Foods Inc. is an ingredient supplier providing the North American market with dried vegetables and spices from around the world. Our large catalog of dried ingredients is sourced from an exclusive global network of supply built on sustainable agricultural practices and a commitment to the continuous development of our suppliers. Our goal is to provide our customers with a quality and affordable ingredient selection that is backed by an honest commitment to customer satisfaction and a flexibility to meet their requirements.

Quick Dry Foods Inc. is located just north of Chicago in Gurnee, Illinois where we have been providing the food industry with ingredients for well over 25 years. Our commitment to customer satisfaction allows us to supply ingredients to a range of customers - we are proud to supply ingredients to some of the nation's largest and most recognizable brands just as we are proud to supply small, local, and start up businesses. We are eager to work with you and your company to source and supply the dried ingredients that will perfectly suit your application.

WHY QUICK DRY FOODS?

Global Procurement. Our 25 years' experience with global agriculture has led to the development of a select and exclusive network of supply. Our agricultural goods are being bought ethically with the interest in the long-term health of our suppliers which assures that we are receiving quality ingredients year after year.

Distribution. We offer large volumes of the many ingredients in our catalog and our efficient and experienced warehouse team rapidly processes and fills orders. We are able to get orders shipped quickly particularly when our customers have an unforeseen need.

Quality, Affordable Ingredients. We are eager to work with our customers to find the perfect ingredient for their application. We offer an extensive selection of stock items but are able to customize size and flavor profile to meet your application.
