M.S.D.S INFORMATION

We offer the following information in response to your request for Material Safety Data Sheets (MSDS) on dehydrated vegetable products.

The OSHA Hazard Communication Standard identifies four lists, the chemicals on which are deemed hazardous:

1. OSHA health standard appearing in 29 C.F.R., Part 1910. Sub-part Z
2. The latest edition of the American Conference Of Governmental Industrial Hygienists publication, "threshold Limit Values for Chemical Substances and Physical Agents in the Work Environment".
3. The latest edition of the Annual Report of the National Toxicology Program.
4. The latest edition of Monographs published by the Industrial Agency for research on Cancer.

Our dehydrated products do not require MSDS sheets because they do not appear on any of the above four lists and are foods labeled under the FDA which are specifically exempted from hazardous labeling.

Even though our products are not hazardous the following precautions should be observed when using our products. Some people are allergic to specific foods and our products are no exception. Many of our products contain powder and as with any fine powder inhalation and contact with the eyes should be avoided. Dehydrated products are combustible.
